

CHIEF OF POLICE

Recruitment Services Provided By Ralph Andersen & Associates

Outstanding Career Opportunity

Reno, Nevada offers an outstanding opportunity for an experienced law enforcement executive to lead a dynamic and growing community. The new Chief of Police will have the opportunity to strengthen community trust and lead positive change within the Reno Police Department (RPD). Focusing on vision, accountability, and transparency, the new Chief will oversee a staff of 431 people, both sworn and civilian.

This is a national search effort and highly qualified candidates are strongly encouraged to submit qualifications for consideration.

Reno is a diverse and welcoming community (pop. 264,142) that is reinventing its core with a flourishing tech industry, vast natural resources, and a strong appreciation for the arts and festivals. The region enjoys over 260 days of sunshine per year, four gentle seasons, no state income tax, and is ideally located near the world-famous and beautiful Lake Tahoe. The area is known for year-round activities with the presence of the Sierra Nevada Mountains and the vast desert plains. Other key areas such as Yosemite, wine country, the San Francisco Bay Area, and historic gold mining communities are within an easy drive.

Northern Nevada and the Lake Tahoe Region – An Outdoor Mecca to Enjoy!

The City of Reno offers an exciting career, great people, supportive community, and quality of life with an abundance of outdoor activities in a picturesque region.

The Community and Region

Reno began as the preferred crossing point of the Truckee River for travelers on their way to the California gold rush of the late 1840s and '50s. With the discovery of the Comstock Lode in the nearby Virginia City foothills in 1859, the river crossing became increasingly important for the growing trade in mining and agriculture. Reno was officially established in 1868, the same year that the transcontinental railroad reached the town.

Today, with a population of 264,142 (2020 Census), Reno is the 82nd largest city in the United States, the largest city in northern Nevada, and the center of the Reno-Sparks metropolitan area, which has a population of nearly 500,000. Reno is home to the University of Nevada, Reno, a Tier 1 university with a student enrollment of nearly 21,000. The campus is home to the Reno School of Medicine and the Donald W. Reynolds School of Journalism, which has produced six Pulitzer Prize winners. The Truckee Meadows Community College serves 11,000 additional students across multiple locations and is a key player in preparing Reno's new skilled labor workforce.

Reno's economy once heavily depended on gaming, drawing visitors from the nearby San Francisco Bay Area and nationally. In recent years, Reno has diversified its economy with a strong emphasis on the technology sector. Microsoft, Apple, and eBay have located in or near Reno and the world's largest industrial park lies just east of Reno, attracting Tesla Motors' Gigafactory and Switch's SuperNAP – the world's largest data center. This massive influx of industry is fueling a hot economy and a housing boom. The resilient and pragmatic nature of Reno allowed its rebound from a devastating recession to its current success.

HOME MEANS NEVADA

the Reno Community

Reno is set apart from other cities in its natural beauty. The majestic snow-capped Sierra Nevada mountains lie on its western border, with Lake Tahoe only 45 minutes away. Considered the "Crown Jewel of the West," Lake Tahoe is home to the highest concentration of skiing and snowboard resorts in North America and receives over 500 inches of snow annually. From Lake Tahoe, the Truckee River flows through Downtown Reno to nearby Pyramid Lake.

Home to the state's only nationally accredited art museum, Reno has a strong appreciation for the arts. It is a city of festivals and events that draw visitors from across the world. Burning Man, Artown, the Reno Air Races, Hot August Nights, the Great Reno Balloon Race, and the Reno Jazz Festival are among the many festivals that bring thousands of visitors to "the Biggest Little City in the World" — a slogan that defines Reno as a city that retains its small-town friendliness regardless of how much it has grown.

City Government

The City of Reno is governed by a seven-member City Council consisting of five members elected from wards, one elected at-large member, and the mayor. All members are elected to four-year staggered terms. The City Council employs two employees – the City Manager and the City Clerk. The City Manager, Doug Thornley, joined the City of Reno in October 2020 and has been instrumental, with the guidance of the elected officials, in leading this municipal organization through a series of organizational changes to achieve more effective and efficient service delivery to the community.

This change effort and significant reinvention and shift in focus has been possible due to City leaders having a fresh vision for Reno, one that is forward-thinking, modern, inclusive, and agile. Greater emphasis has been placed on this new vision – one that is focused on its status as a university town, a welcoming more urban environment, thriving technological economy, natural beauty, dynamic arts and festivals, and transformation of the City's Midtown and downtown core with its numerous eateries.

With 1,423 people, the City of Reno provides a full slate of municipal services across 14 departments. The Fiscal Year 2022-23 budget has a General Fund budget of $288 million and an all-funds budget of $915 million.

Additionally, the new Chief of Police will also be able to:

- * Know how to continually balance a variety of viewpoints and interests in the community, within the city organization, and within the Police Department. The Chief needs to have compassion, humility, stamina, and finesse to navigate successfully.
- * Be a selfless leader who is genuine and has a broad view that promotes the best interests of the City. The ideal candidate will rely on teamwork and collaboration within the RPD, the community, and the broader City organization.
- * Have a true appreciation for the value of a growing and diverse community including embracing and supporting diversity, equity, and inclusion in all day-to-day actions. The Chief should have a keen understanding of how policing affects people, organizations, and businesses. The City of Reno has made an organizational commitment to provide cultural awareness and sensitivity training for its officers and seeks a Chief who will vigorously support and continue this approach.
- * Be a strong leader with excellent communication skills combined with an empathetic and highly collaborative leadership style.
- * Encourage openness and transparency whenever possible and accountability at all times.
- * Be a leader in the field of progressive policing. The Chief must also actively engage the community in dialogue regarding social justice issues and police reform.

Challenges and Opportunities

The next Chief of Police will be presented with a number of foreseeable challenges and opportunities to lead through. The next Chief of Police will have the opportunity to:

- ♣ Provide the Reno community with increased safety while also leaning into the ongoing reforms taking place in policing today. The new Chief will actively seek new and effective ways of working with the community to increase public safety and visibility of the RPD.
- * Mentor and invest in the professional development of the ranks of the department. As a wave of retirements within the department's ranks approaches, RPD must be positioned to continue hiring excellent officers who represent the values of the community.
- * Actively collaborate with regional agencies and community-based organizations to continue to jointly address houselessness issues. The Chief will be seen as a key community leader, a highly visible partner, and collaborator in this regard.

- * Provide recruitment, retention, and succession planning for the RPD.
- * Increase neighborhood patrols and visibility of officers in the neighborhoods.
- ★ Be accessible and transparent in all dealings with the community and be known as a caring, empathetic individual who values equity and inclusion.
- * Address the evolving and more complex needs of a growing department and metropolitan area whose police force and staff as well as residents often still view Reno as a small town.
- * Lead in a manner that anticipates and prepares for the impact of continued growth in all segments of the community.

Education and Experience Guidelines

Any combination of education and experience that would likely provide the required knowledge and abilities is qualifying. A typical way to obtain the knowledge and abilities would be:
