The Community

Greeley is a vibrant, friendly, and genuinely diverse community of about 100,000 residents, a city where it is easy to get involved and affordable to live. The sun shines more than 300 days a year, summers are pleasant, and winters are picturesque. Situated along the Front Range Urban Corridor, Greeley is about an hour north of Denver and an hour east of Rocky Mountain National Park. Greeley is the county seat of Weld County, established in 1870.

Ranked by the United States Census Bureau as the state's fastest growing metropolitan statistical area, Greeley is thriving. The City and University have been active partners in revitalizing the neighborhoods and businesses around campus for the past decade, establishing a University District in 2009 and the Greeley Creative District in 2014. Today, in addition to its educational and cultural impact, UNC makes a $329 million economic impact in northern Colorado, returning $8.70 in revenue for every dollar it receives from taxpayers. Downtown Greeley, an easy walk from the UNC campus, is undergoing a transformation with an influx of entrepreneurs, artists, and shops. Greeley features more than 40 parks across the city including amenities ranging from playgrounds and sports complexes to natural spaces and walking or biking trails and dog parks. Greeley is home to three golf courses-two public and one private .

Economic growth and development provide an abundance of opportunities for an active lifestyle, along with emerging career opportunities for UNC's graduating students.

The University

Founded in 1889 and tucked between the Rocky Mountains and Colorado's stunning high plains, UNC is a public doctoral research university committed to the success of its nearly 10,000 students. The university's size, expert faculty, and tradition of research and hands-on learning gives students exceptional opportunities and a personalized education. Acclaimed for its expertise in education, business, health sciences and performing arts, UNC offers more than 100 undergraduate programs and 113 graduate programs in a broad array of academic disciplines on campus, off campus and online.

Undergraduate students study in a liberal arts tradition that supports critical thinking and making a difference in the world. UNC is a member of the NCAA Division I Big Sky Conference and fields 17 intercollegiate teams. NCAA often recognizes UNC teams for high academic performance. Student athletes have posted a cumulative GPA of 3.14.

The Department

The UNC Police Department (UNCPD) is comprised of 17 officers, 7 communications staff and multiple part-time student employees. Members of the UNCPD are dedicated to providing the highest quality police services. Campus safety and security are their highest priority, in addition to protecting property, reducing crime and the fear of crime. Members of the UNCPD are committed to building and fostering partnerships with all UNC stakeholders and working to build trust across all segments of the University.

Officers patrol the campus by foot, bicycle and vehicle. The UNCPD personnel works closely with the UNC Community and surrounding agencies to ensure a prompt and coordinated emergency law enforcement response.

UNC police officers are certified peace officers in the State of Colorado and are trained in the same manner as all other public law enforcement officers in the State. Officers complete required Colorado POST training annually and receive at least 40 hours of additional training each year through the department. The department subscribes to a community-orientated policing philosophy and selects officers, in part, due to their strong skills in working with young people. Within the PD is a Communications Center staffed with civilian dispatchers. The UNCPD and Communication Center maintains both phone and two-way radio contact with the Weld County Regional Communications Center, Greeley PD, Greeley FD, Weld County Ambulance Service and UNC Facilities Management. The PD also employs non-sworn student security personnel who do not have the same authority as UNC police officers, but function as evening Safety Patrol. This team provides security related functions on campus, including providing escorts on campus, identifying and communicating safety or criminal concerns to the UNC Communications Center, and assisting patrol officers as requested.

Competencies &

Personal Characteristics

- ◆ Strong leadership and unquestioned integrity.
- ◆ Personal and organizational accountability.
